DETAILED ACTION

1. This application has been reviewed. Original claims 1-4 are pending. The rejections cited are as stated below:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 148 USPQ 459, that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or unobviousness.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mallecot (FR 2566361-A1) in view of Shimano (EP 0036750 A1).

With regard to claim 1, Mallecot discloses a bicycle crank arm which has a connection end, a remote end that protrudes off from the longitudinal axis, a hole defined in each end, and an included angle defined between the longitudinal axis and the line connecting the centers of the two holes (can be seen in Fig. 1). Mallecot fails to teach a crank arm cross sectional configuration that is thick and round on one side and narrow on the other side.

However, Shimano teaches a crank arm having a cross section that is round and thick on the leading side and narrow on the trailing side (shown in Fig. 2).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skilled in the art at the time the applicant's invention was made to modify the teachings of Mallecot to include a cross sectional configuration that is thick and round on one side and narrow on the other side as taught by Shimano because it would allow the air flow to pass smoothly around the crank arms reducing air resistance making it less likely for a rider to get tired while riding at a high speeds (Shimano, lines 11-15).

With regard to claim 2, Shimano teaches a crank arm having a cross section that tapers toward the narrow side (Element 2b, Fig. 2).

With regard to claim 3, the teachings of Mallecot in view of Shimano show the protrusion of the remote end of the crank arm extending away from the narrow side.

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (703) 305-3597. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 305-3597) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

_____

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.
